The Details

What happens after you apply?

- / Your application will be assessed by the PIAF Committee who will take into consideration matters including the following Assessment Criteria:
 - Proposed level of Qualifying Victorian Expenditure on production and post-production
 - Level of Indian theatrical distribution committed to the project
 - The number of skills development opportunities (placements and attachments) that could be offered to Victorian screen industry practitioners on the project with a focus on members of the Indian diasporic communities
 - Applicant track record
 - How the project aligns with Film Victoria values and reputation. Film Victoria will not support material that is offensive on the basis of age, ethnicity, nationality, race, gender, sexual preference, religion or physical or mental disability
 - The viability of the project's finance plan
 - Other aspects of the project and its production in Victoria which the PIAF Committee considers relevant to the objectives of the ICAF program.
- / The Committee will preference applications looking at:
 - The number of employment opportunities for Victorian screen industry practitioners
 - Tourism benefits to Victoria.
- / Funding is competitive and decisions will take into account the availability of ICAF funds and the project's value to Victoria.

How long until a decision is made?

- / The PIAF Committee usually assesses complete applications within four to six weeks of submission.
- / If your eligible project is time critical, you should discuss it with us prior to submitting your application by emailing ICAF@film.vic.gov.au.

What happens if you get funding?

- / Funding is provided in the form of a grant
- / Successful applicants are expected to host training opportunities for at least one above the line placement and several below the line attachments (all paid for by Film Victoria)
- / Successful applicants are expected to form an Australian company or SPV that will enter into a standard agreement with Film Victoria
- / Australian companies providing production services on behalf of an eligible applicant will need to provide a copy of the production services agreement (if applicable)
- / The terms and conditions of the ICAF grant generally include:
 - The project must achieve an agreed Qualifying Victorian Expenditure to receive the grant
 - Film Victoria must be credited on the project
 - The applicant must assist Victoria and the Victorian Government with publicity and media opportunities to promote the project's production activity in Victoria

- Details of the deliverables to be provided to Film Victoria on completion of production (click here for a full list of standard deliverables).
- / ICAF grants are generally paid in three instalments:
- 10% on the approval of Film Victoria's final credit on the project (prior to mastering) and approval of a rough cut of the project
 - 10% on delivery of photo stills, press kit, EPK, cast and crew list, and trailer
 - 80% on receipt of all deliverables including an audited expenditure report (completed by an independent qualified auditor who is a member of the Chartered Accountants Australia & New Zealand or CPA Australia), a remittance questionnaire, cost reports, schedules and a copy of the project.
- / Film Victoria reserves the right to withhold or vary the amount of an instalment if any requirements are not met, including:
- Reaching the agreed Qualifying Victorian Expenditure
 - Outstanding payments to Victorian residents or companies have not been made
 - Delivery of the deliverables.
- / ICAF applications and approved grants are commercial in confidence and applicants must maintain confidentiality. Film Victoria will not release details of submitted applications and projects without prior approval.
